2. At a point on High Street from Wilson & McDonald's livery stable to a post opposite, lighting High St. and part of Ninth Avenue.

A Horrible Death.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., April 19.—John Baker, of East Zorra, last night was attacked with glanders. His 7-year-old son was affected by the horse sneezing in his face, and died a few hours later in great agony. Three other members of the family are ill with the same disease.

No Longer a Fast Day.

Boston, April 19.—One by one the old puritanisms are dropping away. For a hundred years or more the 13th of April has been observed as a solemn fast day. Last year, however, the legislature abolished this custom and in its stead decreed that the day should be a general holiday and given up to festivity and jubilation.

To Gather the Harvest.

LONDON, April 19.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Chronicle reports that the Government is expected to disburse 200,000 soldiers from the barracks during the coming summer with a view to facilitating the gathering of the harvest. The Government is also expected to make a reduction in the military budget, and with a view to this end but few maneuvers will be held.

An Appeal to the Queen.

OTTAWA, April 19.—The press reports that Earl Grey, Governor-General, has received a petition from the Canadian people, signed by all Catholic bishops of Canada, praying that the Imperial Parliament should annul the Manitoba act. In view of this petition, it is said that they believe the Canadian Parliament, owing to its partisan nature, is powerless to do anything for Manitoba Catholics.

Killed Him Accidentally.

The confession made by one of the Italians now in the Regina Jail for the Grenfell murder, first mentioned in the Free Press, has been received by the Government at Ottawa and it is that he accidentally killed the victims' granger. This would upset the evidence given for the defence. Meantime the evidence in the case had been forwarded to the Italian consul at Halifax, and till such time as a reply has been received it is not likely anything will be done by the executive.

The Laugh was on him.

REGINA, April 16.—A Regina young man who shall be nameless, who has been east to get married, and was, on his return home, expecting that a number of friends would be at the train to meet him, determined to give them the slip. When the express arrived at Sudbury he changed cars and took the Sud. line to Moose Jaw, which would bring him to Regina by the east bound express instead of by the west-bound. He forgot, however, that there was another Regina passenger on the train who did not change cars, and who consequently arrived home a day ahead of him. Imagine his surprise and chagrin when he found awaiting him on the platform the brass band and a host of friends, who greeted him with music, cheers and rice. He went up, however, that the joke is upon him.

LIKELY TO GET IT.

A Bill for the Settlement of Legare's Claim Introduced into Congress—Legare's Story.

Jean Louis Legare's claim against United States Government for inducing the surrender of Sitting Bull has cropped up again and a bill appropriating the sum of $13,421 for the settlement of this claim has lately been introduced in Congress.

"On Dec. 17, 1876, Little Knife and seven men appeared at Legare's trading post, and shortly after returned to the international boundary, bringing with them a large number of American Sioux to take refuge on the Canadian side. Legare did not know of the Custer massacre until December 24th when Major Walsh came to consult him about the return of the hostiles to the United States. In June, 1877, the number of lodges had increased to 800 or about 4,000 Indians and all were encamped about Legare's post.

The presence of these Indians was a continual source of danger both to Canada and the United States, and great efforts were made by both governments to get them to return to their reserves on American soil. Legare endeavored to procure the return of Sitting Bull in 1878. In the summer of that year he interviewed Chief Nuteek and seventy lodges and talked surrender, but they would not return. In the winter of 1879, Major Walsh took command and in the summer of that year Gen. Miles arrived with 6,000 men at the boundary to assist the Canadian mounted Police in the effort to capture Sitting Bull and his band. Subsequent efforts were made by Allison, Major Crozier, and others to secure Sitting Bull's return, but without success. Legare then determined to influence the Sioux to surrender, and on April 20, 1881, he gave a big feast to 300 Indians, telling them that they must be ready to go with him in five days. On April 26 thirty of the Sioux started out with him for Fort Buford, and subsequently twelve of them surrendered. On July he claims to have induced forty lodges or 200 persons to go with him to Fort Buford, and the surrender occurred on July 20 following of all save Sitting Bull, who surrendered on the day following. Legare claimed that he was encouraged by Major Brotherton and other officials of the American Government to do as he had done."

"England Expects Every Man, Etc."

Inspector Macdonell, of the N.W.M. P. at Coquit, invited a deputy United States marshal to go hunting with him recently. Having occasion to attend to some detachment duty, he left the Yank out on the prairie for a short time. By came a herd of antelope and the American dropped one with his little gun. The Inspector came up on the ran and asked who had shot the deer. "I did," said the marshal. "Then consider yourself under arrest," said Macdonell. "This is the close season for antelope." The chop fallen sportsman was accordingly jerked up and fined $5. And now he says, the American Eagle has been insulted, and he will make the matter an international question, all the same. FLOUR FOR FEED.

A Correspondent of the Northwest-ern Miller suggests that the present is a propitious time to commence a campaign of education among the farmers to induce them to use low grade flour for feeding purposes. This would surely relieve the markets of much stuff that now depresses prices, serves as a substitute for good flour and makes glad the mixers. Farmers would not doubt get as good results from feeding low grade flour and other wheat offal as they do from feeding ground wheat. They would get still better results by using low grade to the exclusion of bran. This would not be as expensive as the wheat farmers have recently ground up for feed, it would make the demand for good edible flour much better, and keep wheat prices at a higher level. The feeding of the offal which for many years was run down the mill stream has been instrumental in securing higher prices for all wheat to the producer and lower prices for all flour to the consumer. Its sale has also materially assisted our millers in increasing the flour exports. If the lower grades now used for food were fed to stock, wheat would command still better prices. A little work by the millers would bring this matter before the farmers, and a few experiments with feeding cheap low grade would convince them of its value. They would also readily comprehend that the use of any great quantity of low grade flour for feed would bring it into disrepute with those who now eat it and strengthen the demand for wheat.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Tilman state dispensary liquor law has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of South Carolina.

A correspondence is now going on between Canada and the Imperial authorities on the subject of the embargo on Canadian cattle. The result so far is disappointing. There is hope that the restrictions will be removed in time but at present the embargo is still on.

A national council of the Women of Canada was held in Toronto on April 11th. A large number of delegates from different parts of the Dominion were present and of these seventy were from the principal cities. Lady Aberdeen delivered the opening address in which she expressed great satisfaction at the representative character of the meeting. Her Excellency closed by expressing the hope that the Council would "forge a bond of union between its members as home-makers and home-builders."

The Crop Outlook.

Prof. Saunders of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, states that the outlook for farmers in the east was so far the best for several years. He said the early and dry spring had left the ground in the best of condition for crops. Sowing at the Experimental Farm was fifteen to twenty days earlier than last year and the condition far better. He was asked if wet and cold weather during May might not alter this forecast. He said hardly; grain would not be sufficiently above ground to be affected, although corn and potatoes might suffer somewhat. But there was no meteorological reason to anticipate unusual weather in May and he thought that altogether the prospects at this season were the most favorable for an excellent harvest of any in the last six or eight years.

The June Delineator.

The Delineator for June is called the "Summer Number," and is a superb issue in every respect, the amount of practical and interesting reading matter being largely increased. The article in the College Series describes A Girl's Life and Work at Smith, and is written by a recent and brilliant graduate. There is also a very suggestive and entertaining paper on A Grammar-School Commencement. Nursing as an Employment for Women is only treated by Louise Darche, Superintendent of the New York City Training School for Nurses. An appropriate "pattern" article, in addition to the regular monthly issue, is on Dress for Summer Sports; and another, equally suitable to the time, gives information on Trunks and Trunk Packing. The opening chapter on Vocal Culture, by the author of Delarto Physical Culture, begins in this number, and should prove as beneficial as the series just closed. The papers on Hygienic Living are continued; and the confidences that should exist between Mother and Daughter is the theme of the article bearing that title. A Rosebud party is described, and other contributions are: How to Serve Small Fruits, Daintiness in the Home, the ever-popular Tea Table Gossip, and among the Newest Books. The articles on Knitting, Tatting, Netting and Crocheting show many original and attractive designs. The subscription price of the Delineator is $1.00 a year. Single Copies, 15 cents. Address orders to The Delineator Publishing Co. (Ltd.), 33 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ont.

Humor in the Schoolroom

J. L. Hughes, public school inspector of Toronto, has put together in the Canadian Magazine a number of stories of school life which are good enough to keep. The following extracts are from the paper: Who made you? asked a primary teacher. The little girl addressed evidently wished to be accurate in her reply; God made me so long—indicating the length of a short baby—and I grewed the rest.

Who were the foolish virgins? brought the answer from a wise little girl!—Them as didn't get married.

Boys, said a teacher, can any of you quote a verse of Scripture to prove that it is wrong for a man to have two wives? He paused, and after a moment a bright boy raised his hand. Well, Thomas said the teacher encouragingly. Thomas stood up and said solemnly. No man can serve two masters. The question ended there.

The words "His Satanic Majesty" occurred in a story read in one of the Toronto public schools. How many know who his Satanic Majesty is? said the teacher. Several hands were raised and the first pupil named promptly replied, "the inspector." It is encouraging to know that she was a very young child.

History and scripture were never more thoroughly mixed than by the boy who wrote. Titus was a Roman Emperor—supposed to have written the epistle to the Hebrews, his other name was Oates.

Here are a few answers culled at random.

The food passes through your wind-pipe to the pores, and thus passes off your body by evaporation through a lot of little holes in the skin called capillaries. A circle is a round straight line with a hole in the middle.

Things which are equal to each other are equal to anything else. In Austria the principal occupation is gathering Austrian feathers. The two most famous volcanoes of Europe are Sodom and Gomorrah. Climate isats all the time, and weather only a few days. Columbus knew the earth was round because he balanced an egg on the table. Mrs. Browning wrote poetry to the pottery geese. This was not complimentary to the Portuguese nor to the teachers method of teaching literature. The blood is purified in the lungs by inspired air.

A poor boy was asked, what is a gentleman? A fellow that has a watch and chain, he replied, adding when he saw his answer was not perfectly satisfactory, and loves Jesus. Medical is a wicked man who has been tempted. A demagogue is a vessel containing beer and other liquids. Tom, use a sentence with responsibility in it. Tom said: When one suspender button is gone there is a great deal of responsibility on the other one. What is a lad? inquired the teacher. A very small girl answered, A thing for courting with. Give me the future of Drink Present, he drinks; future, he will be drunk. The plural for pillow? Bolt-er. Compare ill, ill, worse, dead. This recalls the answer of the boy who said: Masculine, man; feminine, woman; neuter, corpse.

Who was the first man? asked a Chicago teacher. Washington, promptly answered the young American. No, said the teacher, Adam was the first man. Oh, well I suppose you are right, replied the unlearned patriot, if you refer to farmers. How did that b'ot come on your copy book, Sam? I think it is a tear, Miss Wallace. It must have been a colored boy who dropped it, suggested the reflective Samuel. What made the Tower of Pisa lean? The famine in the land, Now, children, said the teacher, we have gone through the history of England. Tell me in whose reign would you live if you could choose for yourself. In the reign of King James, said philo-sophie Alec, because I read that education was very much neglected in his time. Count twenty when you are angry before you strike, said the teacher. Please I think it is better to count 40 if you can't lick the other fellow, wisely added the cautious Harold. Susan, if I were a little girl I would study my lessons, said the teacher reprovingly. Then I guess you are glad you aint a little girl, shrewdly answered Susan. If you wish to be good-looking when you grow up you should go to bed early; was the advice of a lady teacher to her class in hygiene. Isabel rather rudely ventured to say in reply; I spect you sat up late when you was a girl.

Mr. Hughes concludes his paper by the following suggestion:

The humor of the schoolroom is too valuable to be lost. Every teacher should record the humorous answers and amusing incidents in connection with her class. Teachers associations should appoint recorders of humor, to whom all teachers should send the merry sketches of the schoolroom. An hour spent in reading these stories in conventions would be profitably spent. The publication of a volume of such stories periodically would enrich the literature of humor. The best collection of extraordinary answers yet issued is that prepared by Miss Caroline B. LeRoy, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

AN ESSEX FARMER.

A total wreck with kidney disease
—All the symptoms of Bright's Disease present—Dodd's Kidney Pills make him perfectly Well again.

LEAMINGTON, April 23. — Sherman Buchanan, a farmer living near here, recently passed through a terrible ordeal. He was attacked by kidney disease, which made him a perfect wreck. He suffered agonizing pains and his digestive organs were seriously impaired. All the symptoms of Bright's Disease were present. After several doctors had treated him ineffectually, Mr. Buchanan used several boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they cured him. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered to the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, 50 cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Capturing a Train.

OMAHA, Neb., April 21.—A mob composed of men and women took possession of a Union Pacific train here last night and took it out to the camp of the Industrial Army under Gen. Kelly. Their object was to give the army transportation eastward. Kelly would not accept the train, as it was contrary to the rules of peace; and moreover, it would have been of no use, as the railway company had caused a portion of the track to be removed. The Union Pacific are asking for State protection.

Mr. Kleiser has a pleasing manner and is much appreciated wherever he goes. Mr. W. G. A. Ball played several selections with good expression and acted as accompanist during the evening.

Thos. Irving, Winchester, one of Ontario's largest horse importers and breeders, notably distinguished as exhibitor at first-class exhibitions and who also has stood well to the front as prize winner at such fairs as World's Fair Chicago, New York Horse Shows, Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa exhibitions arrived in Moose Jaw on Monday afternoon's special with an imported Hackney Stallion (Moreland 4420) which he imported from England in March 1894 and sold to Wm. Walsh of this place. Mr. Irving returned home by Wednesday evening's express.

Typewriters Complete.

The agent of the Remington Type Writer Co. at Winnipeg has offered a number of prizes for the best specimens of work done by Remington machines. Mr. Jesse W. Hammond, of the Ass't Superintendent's office, sent in last night a type-written letter that is a marvel of neatness. Every letter is clear and distinct and the alignment is perfect. The letter is addressed to Sir John Thompson, and is supposed to be from a civil engineer who has been sent from Ottawa to examine the Moose Jaw dam site. The composition of the letter is so good the arguments advanced so reasonable and the advantages are pictured in so glowing a manner, that we think a mistake was made in not sending Mr. Hammond to Ottawa as a member of the delegation to interview the Government and C. P. R. authorities.

A boon to horsemen.—One bottle of English Spain Liniment completely removed a curb from my horse. I take pleasure in recommending the remedy, as it acts with mysterious promptness in the removal of horses of hard, soft or calloused limbs, blood spavin, splints, curbs, swellings, stifles and sprains. GEORGE ROBE, Farmer. Moose Jaw, Ont.

NOTICE.

THE following is a summary of the Regulations with respect to the manner of recording claims for MINERAL LANDS other than Coal Lands, and the conditions governing the purchase of the same.

Any person may explore vacant Dominion Lands not appropriated or reserved by Government for other purposes, and may search thereon, either by surface or subterranean prospecting, for mineral deposits, with a view to obtaining a mining location for the same, but no mining location shall be granted until actual discovery has been made of the vein, lode, or deposit of mineral or metal within the limits of the location of claim.

A location for mining, except for Iron, shall not be more than 1,500 feet in length, nor more than 800 feet in breadth. A location for mining Iron shall not exceed 160 acres in area.

On discovering a mineral deposit any person may obtain a mining location, upon marking out his location on the ground in accordance with the regulations in that behalf, and filing with the Agent of the Dominion Land for the district, within sixty days from discovery, an affidavit in form prescribed by Mining Regulations, and paying at the same time an office fee of five dollars, which will entitle the person so recording his claim to enter into possession of the location applied for during the period of one year. The entry will be renewed from year to year provided the sum of one hundred dollars at least has been expended in actual mining operations on the claim within each and every year.

At any time before the expiration of five years from the date of recording his claim, the claimant may, upon filing with the Local Agent that he has expended $500 in actual mining operations on the claim, by paying to the Local Agent thereof $5 per acre, cash, and a further sum of fifty dollars to cover the cost of survey, obtain a patent for said claim, as provided in the said Mining Regulations.

Copies of the Regulations may be obtained upon application to the Department of the Interior.

A. M. BURGESS,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Department of the Interior,
Ottawa, July 1890. 3c.

North West Territories.

All even-numbered sections of Dominion Lands in Manitoba and the North-West Territories, except 8 and 26, which have not been homesteaded, reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or other purposes, may be homesteaded by any person who is sole head of a family, or any male over eighteen years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the District in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, or the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for an ordinary homestead entry; but for lands which have been occupied an additional fee of $10 is chargeable to meet inspection and cancellation expenses.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.

Under the present law homestead duties may be performed in the following way, namely, by three years' cultivation and residence, during which the settler may not be absent more than six months in any one year without forfeiting the entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

may be made at the end of the three years, before the local agent, or the homestead inspector. Before making application for Patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands of his intention to do so. When, for convenience of the settler application for patent is made before a homestead inspector, a fee of $5 is chargeable.

INFORMATION.

Newly arrived immigrants will receive at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-West Territories information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them; and full information respecting the land, timber, coal or mineral laws, and copies of these Regulations, as well as those respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior (Immigration Branch) Ottawa; the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg, Manitoba; or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the North-West Territories.
